

RELATIVELY SPEAKING CHARITY GALA DINNER-THEATRE

On the 2nd of May 2007, the British Theatre Playhouse together with the Association of Women Doctors joined together to present a glamorous charity gala dinner-theatre night to raise funds in aid of the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

"Relatively Speaking", a comedy by renowned British playwright, Alan Ayckbourn, was the performance of the evening and played to a sold out audience. Staged at the Jubilee Hall in the prestigious Raffles Hotel, it was a night of glitz, delicate cuisine, fine wine and plenty of laughter.

Ticket sale donations amounted to a remarkable SGD$ 11,455 while proceeds from a silent auction, wine sale and a generous donation from the Lee Foundation totaled SGD$ 21,929. A special mention also goes out to the many supporters of the event including The Peak magazine, Molton Brown, Bimbadgen Estate Wines and Cadbury.

Thanks to the encouragement and kind contributions from various individuals, groups and corporations, the evening was a smashing hit for a truly worthy cause!
